Summary

Anima Holding, a company in the Italian asset management sector, operates mainly in the field of portfolio management and collective management. In the three-year period 2018-2021 Anima has undertaken a process of adapting to and complying with international sustainability guidelines. The process began with the definition of several new corporate policies, including: the prevention of unlawful practices; human resource management and corporate welfare; management of risks, control and compliance; dematerialisation; use of new technologies. In recent months the Company has concentrated on integrating ESG (Environmental, Social, Governance) criteria in its corporate principles; this has involved the revision of some corporate documents (such as the Code of Ethics) through the adoption of new policies on asset management, in relation to sustainability or responsibility, and implementing non-financial reporting in compliance with the best practices in the sector. In March 2021 Anima's outlook was changed, from "stable" to "positive," with the prospect of a likely upgrade of SE's Report in the first half of 2022.

BACKGROUND, METHODOLOGY, RATING

New elements – such as the evolution of the Internet – have created open and transparent financial markets, in which growing segments of the population participate. This has resulted in:

- greater attention to extra-financial factors, both tangible and intangible, with repercussions on the level of trust and credibility of issuers;
- new assessments of the quality and long-term durability of listed financial products, related to both companies (stocks, bonds, green bonds) or institutional issuers (such as government bonds).

Standard Ethics has ascertained that we have reached the end of the classic financial era, which was focused exclusively on economic variables. Despite their fallibility and volatility, regulated markets have evolved and are proving to be the most important and independent system in assessing the long-term sustainability¹ of numerous human activities.

The Standard Ethics Rating helps refine the strategies, language and ways in which an issuer operates on the market.

STANDARD ETHICS

Standard Ethics Ltd (SE) is a Self-Regulated Sustainability Rating Agency² that issues Non-Financial Solicited Ratings to companies and sovereign nations.³ The Standard Ethics® brand has been around since 2004 in the world of “sustainable finance” and ESG (Environmental, Social and Governance) studies.

Standard Ethics is supervised by internal control and audit offices. The composition of the Board complies with the international guidelines on diversity of nationality, professional skills, independence and gender equality.

STANDARD ETHICS RATING

The Standard Ethics Rating, which has been put to the test over the last 15 years, is a Solicited Sustainability Rating (SSR). It has 3 main characteristics:

- Solicited: it is issued only at the request of an applicant, by means of a direct, bilateral and regulated agreement.
- Standard: it is always comparable to other ratings, as the methodology and issuance parameters are aligned to pre-established guidelines, and the algorithm takes into account the size and typology of the issuer.

¹ Standard Ethics synthesizes its vision in three cornerstones of sustainability:

1. Sustainable development policies are about the generations of the future; they have taken on a global dimension; and they are implemented on a voluntary basis. It is up to the main supranational organisations, officially recognised by nations across the globe, to establish the definitions, guidelines and strategies related to sustainable development through science.

2. Economic entities do not define the guidelines, goals and strategies on sustainability: they pursue them to the extent deemed possible.

3. Measuring the sustainability of economic entities means providing comparable and third-party data on their overall compliance with international guidelines.

² In the absence of supervisory bodies and international legislative standards for ESG solicited ratings to corporates, Standard Ethics has, since the beginning of its activity, been self-regulating applying the models of credit rating agencies. In the main: Standard Ethics' clients are the companies that apply for a rating (Applicant-pay Model); in order to remain third party to investors, Standard Ethics does not provide any individual investor with advice, analysis or data regarding companies under rating; in order to offer uniformity in ratings, Standard Ethics has an ethically neutral approach and uses only UN, OECD and EU sustainability recommendations for reference; Standard Ethics uses a proprietary algorithm-based methodology to provide comparability, accuracy and transparency in its assessments; the disclosure of any rating action is regulated by procedures. The indications from ESMA are taken into account; Standard Ethics uses an "analyst-driven process", does not use artificial intelligence or software either in data analysis or in decision-making; Chinese Walls, procedures, compliance offices and independent committees are part of Standard Ethics' structure.

³ SE can issue unsolicited ratings to create and maintain national sustainability indices. SE regularly publishes on its website and updates the ratings of listed companies that are components of its indices.

- Independent: in order to remain third party to investors, Standard Ethics does not provide any individual investor with advice, analysis or data regarding companies under rating, it does not use the data gathered for asset.
- management advisory services (to banks or funds) and it does not share it with third parties.

In short, the Standard Ethics Rating indicates the level of compliance by companies (and sovereign nations) in the field of sustainability on the basis of documents and guidelines published by:

- the European Union (EU);
- the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD);
- the United Nations (UN).

Standard Ethics uses an analyst-driven rating process, meaning the analysis performed does not require applicants to fill out forms and questionnaires or to provide any documents other than those already available and that Standard Ethics does not use artificial intelligence or software either in data analysis or in decision-making.

RESEARCH OFFICE AND RATING COMMITTEE

The Research Office compiles a Final Report and issues a rating based on its review of the work of the Analysis Unit. The Rating Committee analyses the conformity of the collected data and the ensuing conclusions and it approves the issued rating. Chinese Walls between the Analysis Unit, the Research Office, the Rating Committee and all other company offices ensure maximum transparency. A Compliance Officer oversees all steps and processes.

S.E. ALGORITHM OF SUSTAINABILITY ©

Standard Ethics has developed a proprietary algorithm based on five "standards" and a premium variable - "k" - to process the data provided by the Analysis Unit (F_{CEU} ; $Sa_{EU-OECD}$; Mw ; $Id_{EU-OECD}$; $Cg_{UN-OECD-EU}$). The balance between the five "standards" is the final pre-assessment underlying the rating.

F_{CEU} = Fair competition. Main areas: Fair competition, including analysis of dominant positions, market distortions, cartels. Factors that can affect the other variables (Sources: the EU, and the main OECD regulators).

$Sa_{EU-OECD}$ = Shareholders' agreements. Main areas: Shareholders' agreements, rights of minority shareholders, access to information (Sources: the EU and OECD, and the main OECD regulators).

Mw = Market weight. Main areas: Shareholding structure, weight and type of major shareholders, potential conflicts of interest in relation to other variables (Sources: mainly OECD regulators).

$Id_{EU-OECD}$ = Independent directorship. Main areas: Structure and quality of boards and executive groups, ESG Risk and Control Management system, Risk Analysis. This standard is most likely to mitigate the risks associated with other variables and can increase the "k" variable. (Sources: the EU and the OECD).

$Cg_{UN-OECD-EU}$ = Corporate Governance and Sustainability. Main areas: Overall assessment of applicant's ESG strategies and corporate governance (in terms of shareholding structure and sustainability) by weighting the various elements also in relation to the balance of the other variables (Sources: the EU, OECD and UN).

k = Sustainability at Risk (SaR). Statistical projections:

$\frac{(F_{CEU} + Sa_{EU-OECD} + Id_{EU-OECD} + Mw * f(Sa_{EU-OECD}) * f(Id_{EU-OECD}) + Cg_{UN-OECD-EU} * f(F_{CEU}) * f(Id_{EU-OECD}))}{10} + k$	©

ANIMA HOLDING REPORT

1. MARKET AND DOMINANT POSITIONS

Anima Holding S.p.A. (hereinafter Anima or the Company) is an Italian group operating in the asset management sector. It is independent of banking and insurance groups and its activities are focused primarily on the areas of portfolio management and collective investment management.⁵

The Anima Group is the result of a complex process of aggregation (which began in 2008) of companies active in Italy and abroad in the asset management sector.⁶

With its EUR 194.3 billion assets under management – as of 31 December 2020 – the Group is present in Italy and abroad through Anima SGR S.p.A. (100% direct control), Anima Alternative (also 100% direct control) and the Irish-based Anima Asset Management Ltd (100% indirectly controlled by Anima SGR).⁷

The parent company Anima Holding exercises management and strategic coordination over the subsidiaries controlled directly or indirectly.⁸

Anima SGR operates actively in the sector of Asset Management. It also offers “sustainable” or “responsible” investments.

The Italian and European financial market in which the Company operates is free and open.⁸

Anima’s activities are strictly regulated.⁹

Anima SGR, the Group’s parent company, is subject to the regulations issued by the European Central Bank (EBC) on financial intermediation activities, as well as those on macroprudential financial and political stability. Anima SGR is also supervised by the Bank of Italy, which, in agreement with CONSOB (the Italian Securities and Exchange Commission), grants Anima SGR authorization to operate in the field of asset management.¹⁰ In collaboration, each within its own field of competence, the Bank of Italy supervises the Company’s organisational structure, its capital adequacy, and its management risk control, while CONSOB oversees its transparency and

⁵ Anima Group is active in the establishment, development, promotion and management of “Anima” and “Gestielte” financial tools, as well as in the provision of individual management services for both retail and institutional customers. ⁶ For greater details on the history of aggregations and acquisitions, see the corporate website.

⁸ In compliance with Articles 2497 and ff. of the Italian Civil Code.

correct behaviour, its orderly trading practices and its investor safeguard procedures.¹¹

In terms of fair competition, the market in which Anima operates is characterised by regulatory, strategic and size-related entry barriers. Operating in a highly-regulated sector means that Anima faces a series of risks that do not affect other financial sectors, including compliance risks; operational risks deriving from business activities in relation to management; and operational risks related to data management. Size-related barriers are linked to the capital requirements and scale economies needed to compete sustainably, while strategic barriers include the lawful practices enacted by existing companies to discourage new market entrants.

2. CONTRACTS, FINANCINGS AND PUBLIC AIDS

To date the Company has not received any financing from public entities. Its competitive position has not been influenced by any form of State aid.

3. MARKET DISTORTIONS, FAVOURITISM & CORRUPTION

The risk of corruption, favouritism and clientelism is addressed and regulated in the Company's Code of Ethics and Conduct¹² and its Anticorruption Policy.¹³ Anima has also adopted a Policy on preventing the risk of money-laundering and the financing of terrorism.¹⁴

The principles of honesty, integrity and transparency enshrined in the Code of Ethics and Conduct must be observed in all the Company's dealings with public entities.¹⁵

With regard to whistleblowing – an issue addressed in detail in both national and European regulations¹⁶ – the Company has adopted its own system for reporting violations, introducing clearly defined corporate procedures.¹⁷

¹¹ In recent years amendments have been introduced to the national legislation in order to reorganise the Company's legal framework and harmonise it with Community provisions relating to financial markets. This process has led to a clearer subdivision of responsibilities between the Bank of Italy and CONSOB, and to the repeal of the Joint Bank of Italy / CONSOB Regulation. The new Bank of Italy Regulation on investment services and activities, as well as collective asset management, entered into force on 4 January 2020. In detail: "The new Regulation contains provisions applying to intermediaries offering investment services and activities, as well as collective asset management, in order to establish suitable organisational systems capable of ensuring healthy and prudent management, thereby containing risks and assuring asset stability." See the full PwC report for greater detail. Source: PwC, The new Bank of Italy Regulation.

¹² The Code of Ethics and Conduct, revised version dated 20 December 2019, states in its Article 9: "It is forbidden to use any form of abuse of positions of authority that involve a request or inducement to provide services, personal favours or other benefits detrimental to the dignity, professionalism or autonomy of others." As far as relations with Supervisory and Judicial Authorities are concerned, Articles 30 and 31 state that collaboration must be "based on integrity, propriety, professionalism and transparency," in full compliance with laws and regulations. Source: Code of Ethics and Conduct, pages 9 and 18.

¹⁴ In view of the type of activities the Group's companies are involved in, the Policy for the prevention of money-laundering and terrorist financing is drawn up in compliance with the national and European legislation (Anti Money-laundering regulation, Legislative Decree no. 231/07). Source: Anima corporate website.

¹⁵ See the Code of Ethics and Conduct.

¹⁶ The issue of whistleblowing is addressed in Italy in Law no. 179, dated 30 November 2017 ("Provisions on the protection of persons reporting infringements or unlawful practices they have become acquainted with while performing their duties in public or private employment") and "imported" into the corporate Models introduced pursuant to Legislative Decree no. 231/2001. The law addresses the need to combat corruption by providing for a fundamentally important aspect, the protection of the persons who report the breach. The issue of whistleblowing was then addressed by the European Commission in 2018, as a result of the campaign collecting comments and suggestions from the public which was concluded on 29 May 2018. The European Union's basic law is Directive 2019/1937, dated 23 October 2019, providing "protection of persons reporting on breaches of Union law". This Directive entered into force on 16 December 2019 and Member States are required to transpose it into national legislation by 17 December 2021. In Italy it is the Government's duty to implement the Directive, in compliance with the criteria and principles established in Article 23 of the "European Delegation Law 2019-2020" (Law no. 53, dated 22 April 2021). It is therefore to be expected that Italian legislation will be revised in order to take into account the content of the Directive over the next few months.

¹⁷ Reports of breaches are considered relevant and worthy of attention by the Internal Reporting Systems Manager (IRSM) when they involve "(...) facts that could represent crimes, offences or irregularities; actions likely to cause harm to the Company's assets or image (...)". ²⁴ Although there do not appear to be voluntary rules adopted by the major shareholders to ensure that their decisions do not harm the independence of the subsidiary, in Italy there are specific independence requirements envisaged in Article 148 of the TUF, as well as in the Corporate Governance Code for Listed Companies (since 2021, the New Corporate Governance Code).

²⁵ As for disclosures, the Company observes the best practices of listed companies, and has included a section called "Investor Relations" on its corporate website, where all relevant information for shareholders can be accessed.

The Board of Directors has duly established a Committee for Controls, Risks and Sustainability³² and an Appointments and Remuneration Committee³³ – both of which make recommendations and provide advice – as well as the Related Parties Committee.³⁴

The subsidiary Anima SGR has established an ESG Committee³⁵ whose purpose is to support the Board of Directors in drafting, supervising and implementing the Company's Responsible Investment Policy, which is guided by an ESG Policy in the assessment and analysis of environmental, social and governance risks connected to the issuers of assets the Company invests in.³⁶

There are no provisions for representatives of the employees on the Board of Directors.

The members of the Board of Directors are expected to comply with the principles envisaged in Anima's Code of Ethics and Conduct, which was revised and updated in 2019.³⁷ The Code of Ethics and Conduct is the main tool containing the Internal Voluntary Rules (IVR) of Conduct, whose correct implementation is overseen by the Supervisory Body.³⁸

There do not appear to be any further elements ensuring the protection of minority shareholders in the Internal Regulation on Corporate Governance.³⁹

³² In 2020 the Control and Risk Committee's duties were extended to include tasks related to sustainability; it was thus renamed the Committee for Controls, Risks and Sustainability ("CCRS"). It has three members: Livio Raimondi, Maria Luisa Mosconi – Chairperson since 30/09/2020 - and Francesco Valsecchi.

³⁶ This Policy, adopted in February 2021, is fully in line with the United Nations Principles for Responsible Investment (PRI), the basic elements underpinning the integration of sustainability factors in the process of responsible investment adopted by Anima SGR. "This Policy applies to all the products set up and/or managed by the Asset Management Company according to the methods and differentiations regulated by the Policy itself and consistently with the offer and/or contractual documentation of the products themselves." The principles defined in this Policy must be observed by managers of third parties' portfolios, or in alternative, be included in guidelines consistent with these principles. As far as volumes delegated by third parties to the SGR are concerned, the approach shall be decided jointly by the third parties and the SGR. Source: ESG Policy, pages 3 and 5.

³⁹ As far as the absence of a Lead Independent Director (LID) is concerned, the Company's Board of Directors has ascertained that the Company is not obliged to appoint one, in compliance with the requirements envisaged in the Corporate Governance Code for Listed Companies. In the documentation examined by Standard Ethics there is no mention of shareholders' agreements to which Company Directors or Managers are parties.

There are furthermore no Directors who are members of local or national government bodies, judicial bodies, licencing agencies or market supervisory authorities.

The annual Report on the Company's Remuneration Policy for 2020 and on sums paid contains detailed accounts of all remunerations in 2020, paid by both Anima Holding and its subsidiaries to members of the Board of Directors, general managers and other top management figures exercising strategic responsibilities. 21. CONCLUSIONS

Anima Holding, a company in the Italian asset management sector, operates mainly in the field of portfolio management and collective management. In the three-year period 2018-2021 Anima has undertaken a process of adapting to and complying with international sustainability guidelines. The process began with the definition of several new corporate policies, including: the prevention of unlawful practices; human resource management and corporate welfare; management of risks, control and compliance; dematerialisation; use of new technologies. In recent months the Company has concentrated on integrating ESG (Environmental, Social, Governance) criteria in its corporate principles; this has involved the revision of some corporate documents (such as the Code of Ethics) through the adoption of new policies on asset management, in relation to sustainability or responsibility, and implementing non-financial reporting in compliance with the best practices in the sector. In March 2021 Anima's outlook was changed, from "stable" to "positive," with the prospect of a likely upgrade of SE's Report in the first half of 2022.

These are not necessarily sustainable criteria since they include policies and exclusions that are not envisaged in the guidelines of the major international organisations.
