Monthly Fund Manager's comment

Global equity markets posted a positive performance in August (MSCI World c. +2.5%), with the European market (STOXX 600 +0.7%) underperforming the US market (S&P 500 c.+1.9%). From a sector perspective, Autos&Parts (+4.8%), Basic Resources (+4.3%) and Food&Beverage (+3.9%) recorded the best relative performance, while Media (-3.9%), Technology (-3.6%) and Construction (-2.3%) underperformed the market.

The Anima Europe Selection fund had an absolute performance of +0.6% vs benchmark return of +1.1% (-0.5% active return). The main drag to the monthly performance has been sector allocation, in particular to healthcare, technology and consumer staples. In terms of Stock Picking, positive contribution came from materials (OW in CRH), technology (OW in Mongodb) and healthcare (OW in Smith&Nephew), while negative contribution came from consumer staples (OW in Redcare), consumer discretionary (OW in Amazon) and communication services (UW in Spotify). Over the past month, sector allocation has remained broadly stable, with only a few adjustments. We increased our exposure to consumer discretionary, particularly in the luxury segment, while taking partial profits in banks. We continue to hold a constructive view on semiconductors and industrials, where we have also begun to gradually add to defence. We remain positive on materials as well. Conversely, we maintain an underweight stance in staples, utilities, energy, and financials.

Equity markets have rebounded more strongly than anticipated from their early April lows. This recovery has been supported by several key factors: the 90-day pause in tariff implementation, the stabilization of US Treasury yields below 4.5%, and tighter credit spreads. Moreover, the renewed appetite for the AI-thematic, an uptick in soft data, and the growing expectations of a FED Pivot, have further fueled the momentum in equities, in particular in the US market, with improving market breadth. In Europe, the German fiscal stimulus package—unveiled in early 2025—marks a historic shift from decades of fiscal prudence to aggressive spending aimed at modernizing infrastructure, defense, and energy systems. However, the European stock market continue to maintain a lateral behavior for the time being, as the political turmoil in France and in the UK, combined with a mixed reporting season and a lack of short-term catalysts, represent temporary headwinds.
